

Contents

Piotr PAWEŁCZYK
The skirmisher – a new type of a political image	7
Marek SEMPACH
Specialized marketing agencies in the market activities of domestic political organizations	15
Karolina CHURSKA-NOWAK , Łukasz FOJUTOWSKI
The evolution of political marketing in Poland as perceived by voters	31
Jędrzej SKRZYPCZAK
Election campaigns in the media – legal considerations	45
Jakub JAKUBOWSKI
Props as a tool of political communication	69
Agnieszka KASIŃSKA-METRYKA, Piotr OLSZEWSKI
A permanent campaign versus a campaign that never was. The elections for the mayor of Kielce	87
Radosław MARZEŃCKI
Building mutual relations as an element of the political style of the Civic Platform (PO) and Law and Justice (PiS) parties	99
Janusz GOLINOWSKI
Infotainment as an instrument for formatting society under conditions of media democracy	117
Elżbieta LASKOWSKA
The language of ideology versus the language of aggression in political statements	137
Marcin PIECHOCKI
Journalists and politicians. Getting closer and closer	147
Damian NOREMBERG
A negative campaign, or the non-existence of ‘black PR,’ as a method to discredit a political opponent	165
Aleksandra BAGIEŃSKA-MASIOTA
Politicians’ blogs. Who writes about what and why?	181
Agnieszka ROŻEWSKA
Political spectacle as an example of modern political communication. The birth of televised election debates in the UK	197
Łukasz SCHEFFS
Political behaviors versus electoral behaviors	209

Wojciech MAGUŚ
Presidential primaries in Civic Platform (PO) as an example of a political spectacle	223
Agnieszka BIELAWSKA
„Nice or death”, or Polish political discourse on the Treaty establishing a Constitution for Europe and its influence on Polish-German relations	237
Mirela KACZMAREK
Does the end justify the means? On the modern dimension of political Machiavellianism based on the example of local elections in the Opolskie Region in 2010	259
Magdalena MATEJA
The role of photography in political communication based on the example of a ‘double portrait’ of Lech and Maria Kaczyński	279
Anna JADACHOWSKA
An election campaign in a mayor’s office – efficient methods of managing information in town	293
Kamil GLINKA
The language of politics during a permanent campaign based on the example of the town of Wałbrzych	309