

Contributors

Kinga ADAMCZEWSKA is a PhD student at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University Poland.

E-mail: kinga.adamczewska@amu.edu.pl

Ainars DIMANTS is Professor in Communication Theory at the Faculty of Communication, Turība University in Riga, Latvia. His main research interests are journalism, media management, media policy, and media system of Latvia.

E-mail: ainars.dimants@turiba.lv

Michał GŁOWACKI is Assistant Professor at the Institute of Journalism, University of Warsaw. His research interests are media policy, public service media, media ethics and innovation culture. E-mail: michal.glowacki@id.uw.edu.pl

Alena IŠTOKOVÁ is a junior researcher at the School of Communication and Media, n.o. in Bratislava, Slovakia. E-mail: alca.istokova@gmail.com

Ewa JURGA-WOSIK is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University Poland. Her academic interests involve the local media in Poland and issues of access to information in Poland, information policy and access to documents in the institutions of the European Union. E-mail: ewa.jurga-wosik@amu.edu.pl

Nikolett KORMOS is a PhD student at Eötvös Loránd University Doctoral Programme „Film, Media and Cultural Theory”. She conducts researches on the politics of representation and theories of performativity in social sciences.

E-mail: nikolett.kormos@gmail.com

Filip LÁB is Associated Professor at Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague.

E-mail: lab@fsv.cuni.cz

Dominika NAROŽNA is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University Poland.

E-mail: dominika.narozna@amu.edu.pl

Alice NĚMCOVÁ TEJKALOVÁ is director of Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague.

E-mail: alice.tejkalova@fsv.cuni.cz

Bartłomiej SECLER is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University Poland. His research interests involve the media and social communication, relations between politics and history, and political culture. E-mail: bartlomiej.secler@amu.edu.pl

Andrej ŠKOLKAY is the director of the School of Communication and Media, n.o. in Bratislava, Slovakia. He has published widely on media and politics, media ethics and media law (Media Law in Slovakia, Kluwer, 2016). E-mail: askolkay@hotmail.com

Sandra ŠTEFANIKOVÁ is a PhD candidate at Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague. E-mail: sandra.stefanikova@gmail.com

Agnieszka STEPİŃSKA is Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University Poland. Her main area of research is political communication as well as journalism and media content. E-mail: agnieszka.stepinska@amu.edu.pl

Gabriella SZABÓ is a research fellow at the Centre for Social Sciences, Hungarian Academy of Sciences. Her research interests lie in the area of political communication and communities, studies on public sphere and media. E-mail: Szabo.Gabriella@tk.mta.hu

Martina TOPINKOVÁ is Martina Topinková is a PhD student at Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague. Her research interest areas are visual communication and photojournalism. She is particularly interested in visual literacy in digital era, which is the topic of her dissertation thesis. E-mail: martina.topinkova@fsv.cuni.cz

Zuzana VESELKOVÁ is a PhD student of Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism, Faculty of Social Sciences, Charles University in Prague (zuzanaveselka@gmail.com). Her research interests lie in the area of media construction of reality, media stereotyping, news discourse and audience research. E-mail: veselkovazuzana@centrum.cz

Veronika ZAGYI is a research fellow at the Centre d'études sur les médias les technologies et l'internationalisation at Université Paris 8 and PhD Candidate at Eötvös Loránd University Doctoral Programme „Film, Media and Cultural Theory”. She is interested in the sociology of journalism and discourse analysis. E-mail: zagyiverco@gmail.com